Terms & Conditions – Technology Upgrades Promotion (continued.)

4. There is no limit to the number of Katalyst or Exakt upgrades that can be purchased as part of the offer.
5. Some upgrades will be required to be carried out at the Linn factory, and so require the customer's product to be returned to Linn by the customer's retailer. Customer and product details including email address and serial number of the product being upgraded must be provided at the time of order.
6. The upgrade process may involve modification to the metal casing of the customer's original product in order to bring it up to current specification. By placing the order, the customer gives Linn consent to make any alterations necessary to convert their product to 'current specification'.
7. 'Current specification' is defined by Linn and Linn reserves the right to change that specification in order to perform the conversion or upgrade. Linn agrees to change the customer's product's functionality by fitting the latest specification electronics and parts. However some details of a converted product may differ from brand new stock, for example power switch location and front panel printing.
8. The upgrade or conversion of a customer's product may involve the removal of certain functionality, for example specific inputs or outputs. Customers can check the current specification of products at www.linn.co.uk.
9. Upgraded products will receive a new 5-year warranty from the date of invoice. Full details of Linn's 5-year warranty can be found at www.linn.co.uk/warranty
10. This offer cannot be used in conjunction with any other offer or discount applying to the products listed in these terms.
